KENNEDY COACHED

WINNING TEAM

Camden, N. J., High School, coached by Carr S. Kennedy, a former Gould Academy instructor, playing the hardest gridiron schedule ever attempted, beat Atlantic City 14-0, for the first time in the history of the two schools. Trenton, the capital city aggregation, fell before them 26-0, as did three of the large Philadelphia High School eleven. They completed the season with eight victories, one tie and one defeat, scoring 180 points to their opponents 31. Their victories over Atlantic City and Trenton gave them the big three championship and comparative scores gave them the Class A Championship of New Jersey.

Last year Camden won only one game.

Gould Wins Opener

Locals Score 55-16 Win in Featureless Game

As is usual in opening games, poor passes, fumbling, and poor team-work featured the Gould Academy team in their opening game. Though unguarded and seemingly easy shots were missed to double the home team's score. Possibly the general confusion of the first half was due to both teams wearing the same colored uniforms. The defense functioned poorly but shows signs of strength.

Ten men were used by Coach Anderson, all showing signs of being valuable men as the season progresses. The really bright feature of the game was the shooting of Carleton Holmes. He caged the sphere 16 times for a total of 32 points.

The following is the lineup and box score:

GOULD	fg	ft	ftm	Tot.

BRIDGTON HIGH HERE FRIDAY

Coach Anderson is spending the week in ironing out the seeming weaknesses discovered in the opening game. The practices should polish up the offense which seemed ragged and strengthen the defense which allowed the Bryant Pond team to score seven field goals. Bridgton High has scored two victories so far this season and are coming to Bethel endeavoring to make it three. With the Academy team showing signs of improvement each week as they have been doing, the game should be a thriller.

An enjoyable feature of the opening game was the pep shown by the Gould cheering section. Cheer leader Allan and his pack of lusty-lungers kept enthusiasm in the crowd and teams until the final whistle blew. These expressions of sound backing will inspire the team to a finer brand of basketball as the season rolls along.

Judging from the opening crowd last Friday the Academy Gym should be crowded to capacity this week. The Bridgton-Gould game will start promptly at 8 o'clock. The refereeing will be ably taken care of by Mr. Perkins of Bowdoin College.

Small cards containing the season's schedule and a place to keep the score for each game will be given to all who enter the gym on Friday. On the backs of these cards will be found the names of the Gould Academy players, their positions and numbers, thus making it possible for the townspeople to become acquainted with the local team. Every one who enjoys fine clean-cut, wholesome sport should make it a point to be present at this game.

Gould Seconds Defeat West Paris

In a gym the size of an ordinary box car and baskets so low that players bumped their heads on the rim, the Gould Academy Second Team fought a noble battle, finally emerging victors 13-12.

It seemed like almost a hopeless task for the local team as their shots for the basket were caught on entering the hoop by a six-foot back guard who had been trained to stand under their basket and knock down shots. This player nearly spoiled his team's chances by jumping up and bumping his head on the rim with such force that he might have knocked him out.

The West Paris team fought hard and deserved much credit for their work. It is too bad that they are forced to such a small playing floor.

CHRISTMAS HEALTH SEAL SALE IN OXFORD COUNTY

The Christmas Health Seal Sale is launched throughout Oxford County and various committee members in their respective towns are busy making constructive plans appointing sub-chairmen and distributing seals.

North Newry with Miss Hazel Chamberlain as chairman, is the first town in Oxford County to make any definite returns.

DOG TEAM TRIP IN MOTION PICTURES

The entire history of the first international dog team mail, which will leave Lewiston, Maine, Dec. 20th for a 600-mile good-will trek to Montreal and return, bearing Maine's holiday greetings to the people of Canada, will be preserved in motion pictures, according to an announcement made last week by Postmaster Alden Pulsifer of Minot, driver.

According to Pulsifer, arrangements have been made with Phillip Baribault, well-known amateur photographer of 21 Turner St., Auburn, to accompany the team throughout the entire trip, so that he can make a complete record in motion pictures.

Baribault plans to bring along apparatus and sufficient dark room equipment to make possible the developing and printing of the film exposed on the road during the day. In this way he can take pictures of the reception and "getting 'close-up shots'" of the officials and townspeople and flash them upon the screen that same evening.

He will place the various "shots" together, with appropriate titles, into comprehensive picture that will relate the story of the trek from beginning to end. He estimated that it will be at least two reels in length, with plenty of thrills. When the trip is finished, he plans to present one film of the story to the city of Montreal, another to Lewiston, and a third to Auburn, he said.

Postmaster Pulsifer has given the following instructions for sending mail by dog team. All messages must be enclosed in regular government stamped envelopes of twelve-cent denomination, properly addressed and sealed. Any number may be sent. They should not be put into a postoffice, but enclosed in a larger envelope and sent to the Dog Team Mail Driver, Minot, Me., accompanied by money order for transportation fee of 50 cents per letter.

A souvenir stamp to show that the piece was actually carried by dog team mail will be attached by the driver. The stamps cannot be acquired in any other manner. Persons living along the route may hand letters directly to the drivers, it was stated.

The biggest hordes are not the best travelers.

Gould Academy Notes

On Saturday, December 15th, the Girls' Reserves will give their annual Fair at the William Bingham Gymnasium.

The sale will start promptly at three o'clock and will include fancy articles, food, candy, Santa Claus "grabs," Japanese articles, "hot dogs," and Christmas wreaths. At 4 o'clock and again at 5 o'clock, the Girls' Glee Club will sing Christmas carols for fifteen minutes. In the evening dancing and card playing will be offered from eight o'clock until ten.

About sixty orders for Christmas wreaths have already been received. The girls are working very hard to make this sale a success and after three years omission, the Fair again makes its appearance. It is hoped that the cordial invitation extended to the public for this event will bring a large number of people to our gymnasium next Saturday.

The Junior girls of the Home Economics Department gave a very pleasant and interesting tea to the other girls of their class, on Wednesday afternoon, December 5th.

The Pandits met in the main room of the Academy Wednesday evening with quite a few members present. The president called the meeting to order and the secretary's report and roll were read. The author for discussion was Hawthorne, that well known American who wrote "The Scarlet Letter" and "The House of Seven Gables," two of the most widely read books of authors of his period. Several persons had interesting data concerning his life and his habits. The suggestion of the previous meeting relative to the purchasing of some popular fiction stories and at Mr. Nadig's encouragement, we selected, from a catalog, two books, one "Dean Ideal," by P. C. Wren, and "Best Short Stories of 1928," for reading at the meetings. The secretary was instructed to send for these immediately. The meeting was adjourned at 8:05.

PARTISAN FOR CONGRESS

Friends of Donald H. Partridge of Norway are urging him to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for representative to Congress from the Second Maine District in 1930.

Hon. Wallace H. White, the present incumbent, is announced as a candidate for the Senate.

Mr. Partridge has been clerk of courts for Oxford County for some years, and during his incumbency of that office has been admitted to the bar, and is now in the active practice of law, with an office at Norway. He is well known as a young man of much ability, and especially gifted as a public speaker.

NEW ENGLAND MANUFACTURES

New England states have an annual income of $3,000,000,000 from manufacturing industries. This figure represents 11 per cent of the total national income from manufacturing.

Gross values of New England products as shown by the last census, was well over double this amount and comprised nearly 10 per cent of the gross value for the entire United States.

There are some 517 leading lines of manufacture in which this region contributes upwards of a quarter of the entire national production; and in a large number of these New England contributes more than all the rest of the country together.

There are some 217 kinds of manufactured products made by New England factories. In 51 of these, each line brought over 10 million dollars to the New England income, and there were 111 lines contributing over three million each.

Everett McKee

The community was saddened last Friday by the sudden passing of Everett McKee.

Mr. McKee was stricken with a severe attack of heart trouble while about his work in the mill at Skillington and was taken to his home where he passed away about ten o'clock in the evening.

He was born in East Stoneham about 64 years ago; one of a family of eight children. About 20 years ago he came to Bethel where he has since made his home. A quiet, unassuming man, he went about among his fellow men—once a friend, always a friend. The most of the time he was employed in mill work.

Mr. McKee was twice married, his first wife being Etha Hibbard of Shelburne, N. H., who passed away in May, 1914. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Laura McKee, four sisters and three brothers.

Funeral services were held from the Methodist church at 1 o'clock, Sunday, Dec. 9, conducted by Rev. W. R. Patterson. The Masons, of which order Mr. McKee was a member carried out their service.

Burial was at West Bethel.

CHRISTMAS HEALTH SEAL SALE IN PROGRESS

Leaders in various professions and organizations throughout Maine are heartily endorsing the sale of Christmas Health Seals and Bonds in the State. This demonstration proves that the work carried on by means of funds raised by this method is far-reaching in its results and is satisfactory and well-regarded. Only five per cent of all money derived from the sale of seals is sent out of Maine; this is the percentage which all states in the country forward to the National Tuberculosis Association for its nationwide work. The remaining 95% being used in the State for health activities, principally for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis.

Following is a well-worded endorsement from Dr. Clarence F. Kendall, State Commissioner of Health, in which he speaks most emphatically of the good accomplished through the sale and urges the Maine citizens to purchase all they can:

"The sale of the Christmas seals Association as a means of raising money for the promotion of campaigns against tuberculosis, once the leading cause of death in our State of Maine, now ranks seventh; yet, we still have too many deaths from this disease, which can be prevented and cured. The sale of these seals in our state is sponsored by the Maine Public Health Association, and the proceeds are used in helping maintain nursing services in various counties of the state. Every seal purchased means added funds for this work. Every person should purchase as many seals as possible, so that sufficient funds will be provided for carrying on this important work of educating people as to the dangers of tuberculosis, and in the principles of right healthful living, so that this disease may be reduced to its lowest possible number of cases."

PLANNING MEETING

AT EAST BETHEL

On December 29 the annual planning meeting of the East Bethel Farm Bureau will be held at the Grange Hall. This is the most important meeting of the year and every member should be present. Any one interested in extension work will be welcome.

At this meeting the program of work for the coming year will be made up. Be sure to be present and help to plan for a big year's work. Your County Agent is ready to help. All he asks is for the Farm Bureau members to help plan the work. The benefit we receive from extension work is, as in everything else, in proportion to the effort we put forth, ourselves, to receive that benefit.

The meeting will begin at 10 o'clock. A very good program is being prepared for the forenoon. The community has been divided into three teams and a prize offered to the winning team. Dinner will be served by the ladies, after which the business meeting will be held.

Grass Knots Convey Message to Gypsies

Close observers may have noticed in the neighborhood of country crossroads, or where roads diverge, a tuft of grass which has been tied into a knot at the top, and probably considered it the casual act of some idler, but such was not the case.

Since time immemorial the grass-knot has been used by the gypsies as a signal and sign. Usually it is intended merely as a guide for a second division of a party, indicating which road has been taken by the first section, but, if necessary, quite elaborate messages may be conveyed, a particular meaning being indicated by the character of the knot and its position with regard to the road—whether close to or some distance from the wheel tracks, whether on the right or left of the right of way. The second party is even able to tell with considerable accuracy how long it has been since the first party tied the knot. This is accomplished by the breaking of a handful of grass stems when the knot is tied—the degree to which broken stems are dried being a pretty clear indication of the time that has elapsed.

Home Always Most Potent Force in the Formation of Character

By DR. THOMAS ARKLE CLARK, University of Illinois.

YOUNG people of today are better trained, more independent and more self-reliant than those of forty years ago. They are so radically different because in the home they have been given more privileges. They have more freedom, more luxuries. They work best and spend more.

They are, therefore, more selfish, more independent, less respectful and less polite. Too, they are more frank. They pull down the shades on nothing.

I do not overlook the effects of environment, but an experience of many years with tens of thousands of young men and women has brought me to the conclusion that young people are tremendously like their parents. Whatever traits we find in young people, if we look closely enough, we shall find them in their immediate ancestors.

If the young people are so different it is because of the economic and scientific changes in the home. Nobody is at home any more. Father and mother are riding, at the movies or their clubs. The children likewise.

Companions, the church, the schools and the home influence our characters. But the most potent of all these is the home. Courtesy, ideals, truth, honesty—all these have their foundation in the home. We learn by precept and example.

Every parent should remember this, because a child's character is pretty completely determined by the age of fifteen.

Tomato's Great Value

History does not record the name of the courageous one who, 200 years after its discovery, ate the first tomato. But his service to a tomato-eating world is undeniable, since new discoveries of the place of the tomato on the health program are constantly being made. Recent investigations have proved that tomatoes contain the valuable vitamin E, so widely searched for. This vitamin assists the red blood cells in absorbing iron from foods. Owing to the acid nature of tomatoes, the canned product retains its vitamins and health properties. Another interesting fact is that the vitamin A content, in both fresh and canned tomatoes, supplies a certain hardness to teeth, the lack of which is a basis for later extensive decay.

Chinese Women Win

Peking (China) puritanical police have yielded another point to the advance of women. After closing several barber shops because they employed girl manicurists, a practice regarded objectionable in the extreme by the police heads, the authorities have reluctantly yielded to popular demand and permitted the shops to reopen and to retain their feminine aids.

President Cleveland and a Democratic congress were responsible for the Gorman-Wilson tariff in 1894. In this the rates were lowered, but not to the extent which President Cleveland desired. Many attributed the severity of the panic of 1893 to the low tariffs, which was partially responsible for the reaction in the high Dingley tariff of 1897. Some rates were lowered and some raised in the Payne-Aldrich tariff of 1909, but the net result was little change in the level of rates.

THOUGHTS ON THE LOSS OF THE VESTRIS

Again old Ocean takes its toll
Of those who its perils dare,
A hundred have joined the countless dead
In spite of man's skill and care.
Man now can fly above the clouds,
And sail beneath the wave,
Can talk across the ocean
And do much, the human life to save.
But when tossed upon the water
And no earthly help is nigh,
Hear that age old plea for mercy
"God help or I die."

Much that once was mystery
Man now can understand,
But God still holds his creatures
In the hollow of His hand.

The road to peace and plenty is thrift—no road is surer.
Thrift does not mean self-denial.

It means wisdom in buying and wisdom in living—and the habit of putting money aside for use in the future.

MILTON

Several from this way attended Farm Bureau, Thursday, at Bryant Pond. One of the pleasant features of the day was a Christmas tree which was enjoyed by all.

Henry Billings and wife were visitors at Harry Billings one day this week. Ernest Billings is hauling birch to Mann's Mill at Bryant Pond. Vern Jackson visited his mother, Mrs. Frances Lapham, last week end. The heavy snow storm of Sunday night makes us think winter is here to stay. It surely looks like a white Christmas this year. Mrs. Ada Billings is staying with her son, Harry Billings, this winter.

Oaks in History

There was a law in the ancient "Twelve Tables" concerning the ownership of acorns, should they by chance fall upon another man's ground. Scattered throughout the countries of the Old world are individual oaks, preserved and treasured through centuries because of some incident or ceremony that took place beneath their widespread branches.

ALONG LIFE'S TRAIL

Dean of Men, University of Illinois

FENCED CITIES

"They shall dwell in fenced cities," the Scriptures say in referring to the safety which would come to those who ordered their lives aright. The fenced city meant freedom from sudden attack, freedom from the dangers of war, freedom from enemies.

I spent some weeks in Paramo, Brittany, two or three years ago. One of the oldest cities in that part of France. There was a high wall about the town; we could walk on it and look out upon the ocean or down upon the narrow streets below. If Caesar had tried to storm the town he would have had a hard time to break down the walls even with his heaviest battering rams. If the savages from the north had come across the channel to plunder the Breton village they would have found a fenced city, made safe from attack by the high wall about it.

"What is the use of conventions anyway?" Julia asks when some one is criticizing one of her friends for ignoring some of the social conventions which in the youth of middle-aged people of today, at least, were respected. Julia's friend had a young man in his room, and she was sitting there with her eyebrows a little raised. "What is the use of conventions?" Julia asked, "and she's all right to every respect."

Benton is going to a foreign city in which there is far more freedom of thought and freedom of religion than he has been accustomed to. Benton is a young fellow with high moral principles; he has a very definite religious faith; his habits of life have been clean, wholesome habits, and these things will force him every now and then to look into a society in which temperance and virtue and strict adherence to morality are not thought so important as he has so far considered them.

The young person of ideals and of good habits dwells in a city fenced against evil.

Praising Detroit newspapers and officials of the city for the safety campaign which recently has been waged against speeders and reckless drivers in Detroit, E. T. Strong, president of the Buick Motor Co., has expressed the hope that a similar program might be carried out in every city, town and hamlet in the nation.

Messages have been sent to the 4,000 Buick dealers throughout the country, each of whom will be urged to get behind such a movement in his district.

"The fact that some communities have accomplished as much in the humanitarian work of avoiding traffic casualties is conclusive proof that the campaign can be carried to a successful conclusion everywhere," Strong declared, "and the Buick Motor Co. pledges the fullest cooperation of its giant resources in working to this end."

"The automobile no longer is a luxury—it is a necessity, and much of its immense value to the world is being realized by those who use the streets as highways and those who drive without due care in the crowded traffic of the present era."

That the problem is a big one, Strong is certain, but he is equally certain that with the proper cooperation of all concerned the streets and highways can be made safe and the value of the automobile for business and pleasure consequently increased.

3905 4-H CLUB MEMBERS COMPLETED PROJECTS

"This year Maine had 4670 4-H club members enrolled and 3905 of this number, or 83.5 per cent completed their projects," says Lester H. Shibles, state club leader, University of Maine, "and," he continues, "from the standpoint of total membership and the high percent completing their projects, it has been the best year we ever had."

Three hundred nine clubs were organized in the state and the membership composed 1865 boys and 2311 girls, of the 399 clubs, 253 qualified for a charter, which means that they had a local adult leader, regular meetings, a definite program and club officers of the 254 clubs. Two hundred thirty-five qualified for higher honors and received a seal. In addition to the requirements for a charter, a seal is given to those clubs who give a demonstration in the community, a judging contest and have 60 per cent or more of their members complete their work.

Maine 4-H members were active at the Eastern States Exposition, Springfield, Mass. Five club demonstration teams represented Maine at Camp Vail and two individual members were present at the Training School.

Two boys and two girls from the 4-H clubs in Maine went to the National 4-H Club Encampment, Washington, D. C. in July.

The National 4-H Club Congress which is being held this week in Chicago in connection with the International Livestock Exposition is attended by Margaret Williams, a club member from West Franklin. Miss Williams is accompanied by Mildred G. Brown, assistant state club leader.

CANDY MANUFACTURER MAKES GENEROUS GIFT

Nearly a million boys and girls of poor and needy families throughout the United States are going to have a Merry Christmas through the generosity of a leading candy manufacturer of Chicago, says Hartford Powell, editor of The Youth's Companion.

"In a signed article in our December number," Mr. Powell said, "Otto Schnering, president of the Curtiss Candy Co., offers to send at his own expense a Christmas gift box containing his Baby Ruth and other candy bars, and his new salted peanut product called Chicos, to every poor boy or girl whose name is sent to him by our young readers."

"All over the country, boys and girls are looking for children who will have no Christmas cheer at all, and are sending their names to Mr. Schnering on a special form printed for that purpose in our December number. Christmas without candy and nuts would be a dreary day, and Mr. Schnering's offer to supply them free of charge, by mail, in unique in American manufacturing and philanthropy."

Special Baby Ruth gift boxes have been made up by Mr. Schnering for this nation-wide free distribution. Mr. Powell added. These boxes, filled to the brim with goodies, and with a special Christmas card, will be mailed in time to reach the recipients as a Christmas surprise.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THE BETHEL NATIONAL BANK will be held in the banking rooms of said bank in Bethel, Maine, on Tuesday, January 8, 1929 at two o'clock in the afternoon for the purpose of electing directors for the ensuing year and the transacting of any business that may legally come before said meeting.

The utilities of a city are combined in your motor car

YOUR automobile is something like a miniature city. There is an electric light and power system, a water system, a fuel system.

In the new Ford, you will find each of these systems of the latest design and best materials. Every part has been made to serve you faithfully and well at a minimum of trouble and expense.

Take, for example, the generator—one of the most important parts of the electrical system which supplies the current for lighting and for engine ignition.

In the new Ford, the generator is of the power-house type and is distinctive in many features. It has been specially designed to prevent most forms of trouble. Oiling is necessary only once a year. About the only thing you need do is to have the charging rate changed as the seasons change.

Closely allied to the electrical system is the ignition system. It, too, is of new mechanical design in the new Ford. There is but one high tension cable and that connects the coil with the distributor. Even cables from the distributor to the spark plugs have been eliminated. Special care has also been taken to make the distributor water-proof, thus preventing short circuits from rain, etc.

The entire electrical and ignition systems of the new Ford are so simple in design and so carefully made that they will give you surprisingly little trouble. Yet that doesn't mean they should be neglected. Certain little attentions are needed from time to time.

The storage battery should be given water and the connections kept clean. The generator charging rate should be changed as indicated. Spark plugs should be cleaned at regular intervals. Distributor points should also be kept clean and the distributor cam given a light film of vaseline every 2000 miles.

These are just little things, but they mean a great deal to your car. You can have them looked after at very small cost by the Ford dealer when you take the car in for oiling and greasing.

A thorough checking-up at regular intervals will lengthen the life of your car and give you many thousands of miles of carefree, economical motoring.

As the Christmas season is here may we all realize the real meaning of the season and not be content in making just our own families and dear friends happy, but reach out to those who are not so fortunate as we, and make this Christmas the happiest they ever had. Let us all see that we follow Christ's example as best we humans can during this season, the celebration of his birth, in service and love.

The Outstanding Chevrolet of Chevrolet History with Marvelous New Bodies by Fisher!

Only a short time has elapsed since The Outstanding Chevrolet was introduced—but already it has swept on to one of the greatest triumphs in automotive history. Never before has the American public so overwhelmingly endorsed a new Chevrolet—for never before has there been provided, at prices within the reach of everyone, such a generous measure of beauty, comfort, performance and dependability!

New Fisher Bodies

The marvelous new bodies by Fisher—longer, lower and roomier, with all closed models equipped with adjustable driver's seat that may be moved forward and back for proper driving comfort—represent one of the most valuable contributions ever made to motor car comfort and beauty. The hood streams back from the vanguard new chromium plated midline to straight, unbroken lines and blends flawlessly into the body contours. Body moldings divide at the cowl line—giving a paneled effect to the cowl and hood that is both distinctive and pleasing. Concave front pillars lengthen and smarten the profile. And distinctive new Tornado hardware lends a final touch of custom elegance.

New Six-Cylinder Motor

The great new six-cylinder valve-in-head engine was developed from more than a hundred motors that were built and tested over a period of four years by Chevrolet engineers. Not only does it develop 32% more power than any previous Chevrolet engine... not only is it sensationally faster and swifter in acceleration—but it performs with a smoothness and quietness of operation that are almost unbelievable in a low-priced automobile.

It idles along in the traffic line with remarkable ease and quietness. It leaps ahead at the signal light like an arrow from a bow. It takes the hills, no matter how steep, with truly astounding ease. And it delivers this amazing performance with an economy averaging better than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline!

New Comfort and Handling Ease

But sensational as this performance is—it is matched in impressiveness by the marvelous comfort and handling ease that have been engineered into the chassis. The heavy, rigid, channel steel frame extends beyond the entire length of the body and rests on four semi-elliptic shock-absorber springs—set parallel with the road. The front springs are 36 inches long and the rear springs 54 inches—while all spring shackles are equipped with Alemite fittings.

The steering mechanism is designed with ball bearings throughout, with complete lubrication at all points of contact. Brake pedals are correctly spaced for easy and safe manipulation. The two-beam headlights are controlled by a foot button located on the floor boards. And a slender, flat-type steering wheel fits snugly into the hands.

To you who have so often remarked, "If I could only play some musical instrument," I now say, "There's no reason why you shouldn't."

Even if you can't read a note of music right now, you will soon be able to after a few lessons, and before you realize it you will be playing well enough to amaze your friends and relatives.

Intelligent Dogs

In the board room of King's College hospital, London, hangs a picture of two fox terriers bringing a collar there for treatment. The incident occurred in 1897, and is well authenticated. The owner of the dogs was a Mr. Hunt, a well known bookseller. His explanation of the dogs' sagacity was that they lived so near the hospital they must have seen people who had met with accidents taken there for treatment, and they used their knowledge for the benefit of their friend, the collar.

"Ancient Mariner" Had Counterpart in Life

Many of the literary classics which the world accepts as fiction are based on solid fact. A striking example is brought out in the Golden Book, which tells how Coleridge came to write his immortal "Rime of the Ancient Mariner."

The poem was inspired by George Shelvocke, a shipmaster who spent three years in a voyage around the world, from 1719 to 1722. Returning to England, he wrote an account of the trip, telling how the ship had been beset for many days near Cape Horn. The one sign of life was a black albatross, which hovered over the vessel, until the second officer, Hatley, taking it for an ill omen, shot it down.

There followed six miserable weeks, in which the ship was in constant peril, before the coast of Chile was sighted.

It was in 1797 that Coleridge's friend, William Wordsworth, suggested to the poet that he make Shelvocke's story into a poem. Wordsworth incidentally suggested such of the eerie details as the navigation of the ship by dead men, and also furnished several lines of the poem itself.
